

South Africa can be a term that can be used to define – Variety or Versatility. Beginning from the naturally blessed hills, wildlife, flora & fauna, seasons and oceans to the later developed sports, culture & art, the country boasts of variety as no other. The country has a population that is filled with lots of passion for art, culture & sports. Sports stand out as a special feature as it has a historic importance of uniting the country and its race together.

Sports in South Africa is a word of joy, celebration, grandeur and overall a remarkable event. The country thus has one of the world's best sports arenas with world-class facilities. The arenas have the capacity to accommodate large crowds and have the security measures at its best. The added feature about the sporting facilities is the surrounding picturesque views and proximate locations for water sports such as surfing & diving. The hosting grounds for the 19th FIFA games, was chosen to be South Africa and turned as a crowning glory to the sporting passion of the country.

The country embraces a variety of sports including rugby, cricket, soccer, marathon, golf, and cycling. The country has a native crowd which excels in most of the sports mentioned. The country largely focuses on 3 main sports which is Cricket, Rugby & Soccer or Football.

- Cricket: A game that is adored by the entire globe has a special place in the South African country. The country has groomed and stood out as one of the world's best cricket teams. The sport has been well nurtured and supporting facilities have been built to perfection. The South African cricket matches are a treat to every cricket fan and to the eyes of almost every viewer.

- Rugby: South Africa is known for having the world's best Rugby team. This proves the importance the game has in the South African land. Rugby has a team for both the genders and is widely loved by the world for their exceptional performance.

- Soccer or Football: The game falls into the category of being the country's main sport largely because of the adoration that the South African people have for it. The game is one of the most favorite sports and has an intense fan following in the country.

South African sports interests and performances are so good that it has the world crowd turning its attention for a long time.